Important bits to read

We agree to provide you with insurance cover as long as you meet certain conditions. If you do not meet these conditions, we may decide not to accept a claim or to cancel your policy or treat it as if never existed.

You must:

- do what you can to protect your contents against loss or damage
- let us know if there is any change of address or use of your house
- be truthful and correct in everything you tell us
- let us know if your house is unoccupied for more than 60 consecutive days.

Other stuff to know

Do I always have to pay an excess?

Your excess is the amount you must contribute as the first payment towards the cost of each claim you make.

The Policy Schedule shows how much excess you have to pay. You won't have to pay any excess if:

- you make a claim under 'Temporary accommodation costs' (see page 4)
- you make a claim under 'Key and lock cover' (see page 5)
- you make a claim under 'Cover if you damage other people's property' (see page 7).

Am I covered for things that belong to visitors or flatmates?

Your AMI household contents policy provides cover if you are responsible for any accidental damage to a visitor's property while it is in your home. See page 7, 'Cover if you damage other people's property'.

It does not insure the belongings of boarders, tenants or flatmates. They will need their own contents insurance policy.
